PROFI B VARIO: Now Even Easier to Use

A larger control panel, a modernized interface, and a more intuitive program selection: Reichmann makes operating the powerful PROFI B VARIO even easier, faster, and more convenient. New orders for the machine will now come standard with the optimized control panel.

In professional ski service, workflows must be fast, safe, and easily reproducible by different operators. This is exactly where Reichmann comes in with the enhanced user interface of the PROFI B VARIO. The new, enlarged control panel offers an even better overview and makes daily work on the machine easier.

The user interface has also been visually redesigned. The modern, clearly structured look guides operators through the individual work steps even more intuitively. A redesigned program selection list makes it possible to find the right grinding program faster and select it directly.

Greater Clarity in Daily Ski Service

The optimized user interface is particularly helpful for workshops where different employees – or those who rotate seasonally – work on the machine. Programs can be selected intuitively, accessed securely, and repeated reliably. This reduces the need for training, makes onboarding easier, and ensures efficient workflows – even during the busiest periods of the winter season.

The proven features of the PROFI B VARIO remain unchanged. Operators can continue to switch quickly between pre-sanding, smoothing, and texturing. Pre-set programs ensure reproducible processes and consistently reliable results – regardless of who is operating the machine.

Proven, unique technology with an optimized user experience

With the new control panel, Reichmann combines the unique grinding technology of the PROFI B VARIO with an even more user-friendly operating concept. Professional ski service shops thus benefit from a clearer overview, faster program selection, and exceptionally easy handling in day-to-day workshop operations.

Effective immediately, all new orders for the all-in-one machine will be shipped with the optimized control panel as standard equipment. The PROFI B VARIO thus offers a powerful all-in-one solution for professional ski service shops that prioritize high grinding quality, efficient processes, and intuitive operation.
